Additional Details, Finishes, and Ordering Information

LANTERN & BACKPLATE FINISHES

A gunmetal finish is now available for the following items: mica shade frames, lantern wall sconce hooks, lantern wall sconce backplates, hurricane light holders, hurricane light shades, light socket covers, and antler wall sconce tubes and backplates. Gunmetal finish is standard on wagon wheel tires and hub rings. We now offer seven standard finishes for our old-fashioned oil lanterns. They are glossy black, flat black, painted rust, or old-fashioned rust. We can also match paint colors if you provide a color number. Please specify which finish you prefer when ordering. Click on any photo to enlarge.

LANTERN DOWNLIGHTS & ANTI-SWAY RODS

We now offer downlights with any of our 13-inch or 15-inch lantern designs. These downlights mount on the bottom of the lantern and feature a standard two-prong halogen light bulb. There is an opaque diffuser cover over the bulb. They are perfect in applications where additional light is needed directly below the fixture. Price: $20 each. Click on any photo to enlarge.

If you are planning to mount your lantern wall sconce in a windy area, we recommend the addition of an anti-sway rod. This is a simple rod that attaches from the bottom of the lantern to the wall behind. Anti-sway rods are available for any size lantern wall sconce at no additional charge. Click on any photo to enlarge.

CHAIN FINISHES

We offer three standard chain finishes. They are black, rust, or antique brass. We can also match paint colors if you provide a color number. Please specify which finish you prefer when ordering. Click on any photo to enlarge.

ANTLER QUALITY & PRICING

Antlers are bought and sold by the pound and by the grade. Grade refers to the age of the antler (which is the amount of time it was lying on the ground after being shed). Antlers are classified as Grade 1, 2, or 3.

Grade 1 antlers are the ones most recently shed. They still have a hard, shiny surface with no surface cracking. Grade 2 antlers are a little older and have developed some surface cracks on the side that was exposed to the sun. Grade 3 antlers are the oldest with surface cracking on both sides of the antler.

We offer the same beautiful, strong, and symmetrical designs in the Grade 3 antlers as we offer in Grades 1 and 2. We DO NOT use really old antlers that may be cracked all the way through, so our Grade 3 designs are every bit as strong as our Grade 1 and 2 designs. We don't use any antlers with broken tips or rodent holes.

It is important to note that some antler art companies use only Grade 3 antlers.

Antler Pricing — At Horns-A-Plenty we think it is only fair to base your price on what the antlers actually cost us.

Grade 1 antlers are more difficult to find than grades 2 or 3, therefore, they are the most expensive antler to buy. Grade 2 antlers are more plentiful and easier to find, so their price is lower. Grade 3 antlers are even more abundant, so they are the least expensive.

Prices listed in the catalog are for Grade 2 antlers as we have found that we can create very high-quality antler art with these antlers at a more reasonable price. Grade 1 antlers are an additional 50 percent on any design. Grade 3 antlers are available on any design using mule deer antlers and are 20 percent less.

Antler Color — At Horns-A-Plenty, we use a special antler stain on all designs to re-create the "natural brown" look of pre-shed antlers. (We can also leave the antlers natural bleached white upon request.) The stain creates fairly even coloration depending on how each antler takes the stain, but most often we strive to re-create the "natural brown" look as closely as possible. Often, even experienced antler people can't tell the difference between stained and natural! We use the same special antler stain to return the Grade 3 antlers to a "natural brown" that we use on Grade 2 antlers. We also take special care to sand and seal the antlers to bring back a beautiful surface texture. You will still notice some cracking.

A GUIDE TO ANTLER GRADES

Description	Hard & Shiny	1 surface cracked	2 surfaces cracked
Pricing	50% extra	Our standard	20% less

LIGHT SOCKET COVERS

At Horns-A-Plenty you can customize your chandelier right down to the type of light socket covers. Our standard is an adjustable light socket with a metal light socket cover. The whole assembly is mounted on a swivel base so you can adjust it yourself. The standard light socket cover is antique brass and we also offer polished brass or black. Click on illustration to enlarge. We also offer antler light socket covers in which a cast antler is placed over the light socket so it looks like natural antler all the way up to the light bulb. Antler light socket covers are fixed to the antler they are mounted on and blended in with fill material so you can't see the junction. Therefore, they are not adjustable. Click on illustration to enlarge.

General Information

- Chandeliers & Sconces are UL Approved! — You can be sure your fixture is safe because all directly wired fixtures by D Bar X Lighting and Horns-A-Plenty Antler Art are approved by Underwriter's Laboratories to meet their standards for electrical safety. That means we must not only use lighting parts that are manufactured to UL standards, but each finished piece must also conform to their standard. Each piece must pass a di-electric test in which we run 1,200 volts through the wiring to make sure there are no short circuits and UL inspectors randomly visit our workshop to inspect our methods and records. We provide a packet that includes a canopy, mounting hardware, our UL number, and our address and phone number.
- Custom Options! — We are happy to make custom designs! We can customize most of our standard designs, or we can work with you to create something entirely new!
- You Specify Chain Length! — If not otherwise indicated, chandeliers come with 6 ft. of chain and 7 ft. of wire. We'll ask you for the length when you place an order.
- Lightbulb Options — Most of our chandeliers feature candelabra-style light sockets (small bases) for which you can buy a variety of wattages up to a maximum of 60 watts. Large Edison-style light sockets (standard bases) are available on larger chandeliers. The style and max. wattages are listed with each item.

ORDERING & SHIPPING INFORMATION

How to order — To order please call us at 1-800-467-6599 or 1-775-234-7107 or print Order Form and fax to 1-800-814-4710 or 1-775-234-7126.

Turnaround — Orders are completed on a first-come, first-served basis and are scheduled based on how long it takes to build each order. Please call for our current turnaround. You will be given a current order completion date when you place an order. We strive to complete your order as soon as possible.

Deposit Required — We require payment in full prior to shipping any order. We require a 50 percent deposit to place an order. If you order a standard item, we will refund your deposit if you cancel your order. If you order a custom design, the deposit is not refundable if you decide to cancel. The balance on any order is due prior to shipping. We accept Mastercard, Visa, American Express, wire transfers, personal or business checks, money orders, or certified checks. We require a 100 percent deposit if paying with non-certified funds and have a two-week waiting period for bank clearance.

Packing & Shipping — We have easy-to-use packing and shipping prices to any location within the continental United States. The single-item packing and shipping price is listed next to each piece on the price sheet. If you are ordering more than one piece, the packing and shipping price is often much less – please ask for a quote. Call for rates to Alaska, Hawaii and foreign countries.

100% Satisfaction Guarantee — If you aren't completely satisfied with your design from Horns-A-Plenty Antler Art/D Bar X Lighting, we'll replace it if it gets damaged, exchange it if it's not right, or refund your money! You are responsible for the actual cost of packing and shipping on exchanges and returns, but not on damages (see "guaranteed delivery" below). Please note that the ACTUAL COST of packing and shipping is usually more than what we charge for the initial shipment. Please save the carton or crate we send just in case! We will refund your money when we receive the returned item.

We Guarantee Delivery — We ship F.O.B. your destination for shipments within the continental U.S. That means we take responsibility for your shipment until it is actually delivered to your door. If the freight company damages your shipment, we will have it returned, take care of the claim, and get you a new piece as soon as possible. Please save the carton or crate we send just in case! Any damage should be noted on the delivery receipt to help expedite the return. Shipments outside the continental U.S. are entirely the responsibility of the customer.
